

Homework 6

Abolfazl Hoseini, Hannane Montazer, Ashkan Shakiba

Question:

6.8. Why is feedback important to the software team?

Answer:

When you carefully consider customer feedback, you facilitate the growth of your business. This is because you get to improve your software and stay head of the competition in terms of functionality and user experience.

You help your business make better decisions in the future when you listen to your customers today.